Working Group «Education and Culture»

Discussion during the first session of Working Group Education and Culture focused mainly on two subjects- means of development of local language and methods of non-formal education.

Based on the discussion among experts from Working Group and other relevant stakeholders we have decided to focus on questions regarding the processes of non-formal education.

In this context we have chosen experienced local expert – Radion Velchev, whose main task will be to present several main issues that has been identified during the first session: to introduce process of non-formal education; results of the use of non-formal education methods; the possible scenario of introduction of these methods in Gagauzia; possible barriers and risks.

The task of Slovak expert, Milan Cícel, will be to provide, first of all, Slovak experience in the introduction of non-formal education methods and to give examples of successful use of non-formal education methods, in combination with formal one.

Agenda of the session

- What is non-formal education
- Impact of non-formal education on culture
- Two directions of non-formal education
- Non-formal education' implementation
- Non-formal education out of classes
- Necessity of coaching
- Contact with executive and legislative powers
